

The Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Connecticut are contracts between the people, the governed, and their government.

There have been countless court cases which have reestablished our god given right to bear arms and this rite shall not be infringed on no matter how good the intent appears on the surface.

I would insist that you protect our Constitution as you have sworn under oath to do, by not destroying our Second Amendment rights, or any part there after of this defining document.

Any violation of this document will only result in endless expense in court cases that history has showed to be routinely overturned, and the false arrest of many law abiding, hard working citizens of this state.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

"They that can give up essential liberty to purchase a little temporary safety, deserve neither liberty nor safety."

Without the constitution, there is no democracy Richard Kraiza
